THE MUSEUM OF ILLUSIONS

Dallas' West End | 701 Ross Ave

Dallas has a new museum, and it's one that will make your head spin. The Museum of Illusions, an interactive museum focusing on "edutainment," opened its first Texas location in downtown Dallas on December 7.

The museum features more than 60 exhibits and installations designed to offer an insight into how the brain perceives things. It uses illusions to teach visitors about vision, perception, the human brain, and science, making it easier to understand why the eyes can see things that the brain cannot explain.

It includes such photogenic exhibits as a vortex tunnel, reverse room, tilted room, infinity room, a Beuchet chair, and more.

Open every day from 10 am to 8 pm, the museum costs $19 for adults, $17 for students or military with valid ID, and $15 for children ages 5-12; kids 4 and under are free. There is also a family four-pack available for $62, saving $6 for a family with two parents and two kids.
